EVERYWHERE

For the London Design Festival (14 – 22 Sept) a menagerie of fantastical objects fills the main space of Gallery S O London. Furniture designer Carl Clerkin's exhibition "The Other Way" transforms the ordinary into the extra-ordinary; dustpans and brushes are forever joined and the spokes of a bicycle wheel become the arms of an umbrella.

We do hope to see you during the festival, our openings times are Monday to Saturday 12 – 6 pm and Sunday 12 – 5 pm, with a special Late Night opening: Tuesday 17th September, 6 – 9pm.

"My Mother in law had one of those Chesterfield foot stools, the ones with the Cabriolet legs, she also had a Staffordshire Bull terrier. I always saw them as being related, Cousins perhaps.

I usually design useful objects for the home, function is always the main driver, but I like the idea of the things that we live with having character and interacting beyond the physical, I like the idea that a bucket can express an urge, or a broom can be more comfortable doing it... the other way."

Carl Clerkin, 2013

Running concurrently with this exhibition is an installation by ALL LOVELY STÜFF. Founded by Carl Clerkin and Ed Ward this British home-ware company produces and sources well-made, practical and affordable products that make everyday tasks easier and more enjoyable. Alongside their current collection, including pieces designed by Michael Marriott and Alex Hellum, are new products and prototypes.
